The beauty of Korean in the lyrics of Renaissance

Mr. Seo Kyung-duk

Hello! We are going to have some time to learn meaningful words and structures from K-pop songs for Korean learners.

SEOLA

Hello! I am SEOLA from WJSN.

SEOLA, can you introduce us to a fine WJSN song today?

Good. Personally, my favorite lyric is at our 4th album, WJSN's 4th album. It is called the "Renaissance." In the lyrics, there is a part saying "My most beautiful days, that name is you." I like this part the most among our songs. When I think of beautiful days, it reminds me of our fans. I like this part because it reminds me of our fans and I think it's the power that makes my heart moved just by hearing the word 'beautiful days.'

Well, from the words beautiful days, the 'days' in Korean mean a certain period or moment in a dictionary. We usually use this words like "reminisce about the good old days."

So whenever I hear the word, it reminds me of my parents. It sounds pleasant.

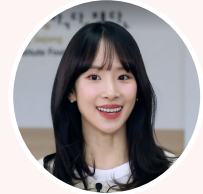

Oh, it reminds you of your childhood in a good neighborhood.

The beauty of Korean in the lyrics "Sancheok(A Stroll)"

Mr. Seo Kyung-duk

SEOLA, what song are you going to introduce today?

SEOLA

There is a song called "Sancheok (A Stroll)" sung by Sorri.

Which line of the song do you like the most?

There is a song called "Sancheok (A Stroll)" sung by Sorri. Here is a part saying "I miss him, the face that I miss, disappears like a picture drawn with water."
Also, the word '산책 (A stroll)' makes me feel pleasant, and it feels like it is a good word to remind someone special.

You chose the word "Sancheok (a stroll)" in this song. "Sancheok (A stroll)" means walking slowly to take a rest for health.

Lastly, I think there must be something I really wanted to say to fans all over the world.

There are many wonderful Korean lyrics in K-pop, So please love K-pop.
And I hope you'll get closer to K-pop by studying Korean.

The beauty of Korean in the lyrics of "Geu ttae uri (Memories)"

Mr. Seo Kyung-duk

Hello,
Today, we'll take some time to explore the charms of K-pop lyrics.

Exy

Hello everyone, I am Exy, a leader of WJSN.
Nice to see you.

Let's listen to what's your favorite part and lyric of the WJSN's song.

I thought people who just became adults or who are already old enough might form a sympathy when they hear, "We have a lot to protect as adults." That is why I chose this lyric. Simply I like the title itself, "Geu ttae uri (Memories)." (*Geu ttae uri means "those days, we...")

That's right, and especially, people use uri a lot in their daily lives. The word "uri" is a first-person pronoun that refers to many people, including the speaker and the listener.

First-person pronoun.

Yes, and it is used to indicate that the speaker is in a close relationship with the listener.

The beauty of Korean in the lyrics of "Blueming"

Mr. Seo Kyung-duk

Hello!
Today, I will study the beautiful lyrics of K-pop with Exy.

EXY

Hello everyone, I am Exy, a leader of WJSN.
Nice to see you.

It will be very nice if you can introduce another awesome K-pops.

Among IU's songs that I really admire, I like the lyric of <Blueming>. There is a part saying, "I make roses bloom with my thumb." I like this part very much. First of all, this part summarizes the theme of the song. Also, the verse means sending text messages to someone she likes, by those figurative and metaphor expressions were very touching.

Yes, umji (a thumb) implies "the best, cool."

Right,
people also say umji choek(Thumbs up).

Could you say a word to those who are watching our lecture from all around the world.

First of all, it was a great honor to be here and introduce K-pop lyrics to you. I hope you don't find learning Korean too hard. Hope you enjoy learning. Also, if you keep listening to K-pop, you will be able to learn Korean language all by yourself.

Oh, it is not that easy to master...

No, it is definitely possible!
There are such profound lyrics in various K-pops genres, so I assume listening to K-pop allows you to improve your Korean greatly.

Sounds good. As EXY mentioned, if we listen to K-pop, your Korean will improve, at least gradually. Is it right? It will be a great opportunity to learn and improve Korean language skills.

Shall we do it together?

Read the lyrics of your favorite K-pop songs and find your favorite phrases and talk to each other.
